Thai Journal of Gastroenterology 2012-2014

Dear Members,

This issue of TJG journal contains many interesting and knowledgeable topics, especially the X-ray corner, where you can see “MRCP of congenital anomalies of biliary system” and Endoscopic corner, show cases of colitis from various causes. There is Patho corner of distinguish histopathology. Topic review of “Pathogenesis of alcoholic liver disease” is curious. Also, 6 original articles produced by GI fellows are included in this issue.

TJG has been publishing for over ten years, by the support, strength, and devotion given by the editorial boards and all the GI members for submitting their works. We must thank the drug companies for their financial supports. We promise to improve the quality of our journals even more, by the comments given by the members, so that our journal becomes one of the best journals in this region.

Duangporn Werawatganon, M.D.
